

DEPUTIES FLED

Before an Angry Mob of Men,
Women and Children.

THEY ATTEMPTED TO EVICT

Striking Miners of the Pittsburgh and Chicago Gas Coal Company, at Orangeville, Pa.—Although Armed with Winchester and Revolvers They Could Not Withstand the Onslaught of Frenzied Women who Led the Attack—They Finally Capitulated.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—The efforts to evict the striking miners of the Pittsburgh & Chicago Gas Coal Company, at Orangeville, one and one-half miles from Gastonville, resulted in a riot of no mean proportions and the utter failure on the part of the company to accomplish its object.

When the news that the evictions were to be attempted, the whole vicinity about Finleyville, Gastonville and Orangeville became wildly excited.

About 7 o'clock last night twenty deputies from Washington, Pa., in charge of Chief Deputy Joseph Hemphill, reached Finleyville, where they were met by a large crowd of strikers and their friends. Each deputy was armed with a Winchester and revolver, but in spite of this, the strikers, headed by 100 Polish women, closed on them and the deputies received rough treatment. They were gradually forced back and finally retreated to Gastonville, where they were followed by a crowd of about 200 men and women. At Gastonville the deputies took refuge in the office of the company, where they were kept all night, during which the building was bombarded with stones and bricks, and an occasional shot was fired.

At 7 o'clock this morning the trouble of the night reached a climax when the deputies sallied out from their besieged quarters and started to march to Orangeville.

Each one carried his Winchester in his hand and his revolver was exposed, but they had no terror for the besiegers. Headed by the women, the strikers rushed on the deputies with stones, clubs and pick handles and blows fell thick and fast. One of the big women wrested the rifle from a deputy's hand and struck him on the head with it, inflicting serious injury. By this time 1,000 men and women had joined the crowd. They came from Venetia, Snowden, Calamity and Finleyville. The deputies slowly made their way to Orangeville, taking all of the insults and injuries, but never firing a shot. They finally took refuge in a vacant house, followed closely by the mob, which quickly surrounded the building and threatened to burn it.

Finally one of the strikers approached the house with a flag of truce and a conference was held. The deputies were asked to leave the town, and after a short parley decided to do so. They emerged from the house a badly scared lot of men, and walking between the opened ranks of the strikers started for Gastonville. Almost every man in the posse was cut and bleeding and several were seriously hurt. One had his right hand almost severed by a sharp stone. As the defeated deputies ran the gunshots, they were greeted by hisses and curses and ridicule. The strikers then closed behind them and marched them to the station, where they took the train for Washington, Pa.

After their departure the mob dispersed and everything is quiet now. The officials of the company say no further attempt will be made to evict the miners for the present.

Debs' Emotional Fury.

Chicago Journal: In his St. Louis speech, Debs said that the time would come to incite the populace, and that when it did come his hearers could depend on him. He would be in the front rank and lead them on. He shrank from bloodshed, but if it were necessary to preserve liberty and life he would be willing to shed the last drop of blood in his veins. This incendiary language is weak in the ratio that it is intended to be strong. It will divide no one and scare no one. It is blundering politics which will hurt the speaker and diminish his influence. He should have stuck closer to that plank in his platform which declares for a battle of the ballot. That would attract to him those whom the speech will alienate, and moreover, it indicates the programme which Debs himself will help to carry out. He let his tongue get away with him in his emotional fury. He isn't going to shoot or be shot.

Meat to be Higher in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—The call says that meat, particularly lamb and veal, is going to be higher in California during the next six months than it has been for several years past, as the result of operations of the "Big Four" Messrs. Morris, Swift, Armour and Cudahy, Chicago. Realizing some time ago that feed would be abundant this season these men began purchasing lambs, calves and cattle in large numbers and shipping them east to fatten. They drew largely and quietly on the vast herds of Nevada, Arizona and Oregon and before local wholesalers knew it, had snapped up nearly everything in sight. An advance in price has already been made and now Miller and Lux, and the western meat company, the two largest cost dealers, are working hard to secure a sufficient supply for their trade.

Stationary Engineers' Association.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 7.—The National association of stationary engineers met here to-day in annual session, John W. Lane, Providence, R. I., in the chair. It is not a labor, but an educational organization, relative to handling stationary engines and machinery. Governor Bushnell welcomed the convention to the state. James Henry Harris, of Chicago, responded to the governor. Mayor Samuel L. Black made the welcome to the city to which Charles H. Garlick, of Pittsburgh, responded. The day was given to social amenities. The convention will continue three or four days. Meanwhile delegates and their wives will be entertained in various ways, including visits to power plants. Headquarters are at the Chittenden hotel.

The Half Not Told.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Sept. 7.—Captain Lanning, of the tug Pioneer, just returned from Dyce and Skagway, says: "The half has not been told of the miserable trails which the gold seekers are striving to cross to Lake Linderman. Captain Wasson, banker and ex-collector of customs for the Puget Sound district is reported as being camped on the beach at Skagway with not one chance in five thousand of getting through this fall. He has ten horses. One man at Dyce offered $750 to have 1,200 pounds packed over, but the packers refused the offer. Crossing from Skagway and Dyce the trail is practically closed on account of the mud."

Dying from a Mosquito Bite.

POMONA, Cal., Sept. 7.—David Pearce, a well known ranch man near San Gabriel, is dying from poison from the sting of a mosquito last week. He was cleaning an irrigation ditch at nightfall on his property and was frequently stung by mosquitoes. He continued at his work and went home, a mosquito sting back of his left ear irritated him more than all the others.

Neuralgia of the Heart

Vanquished by Dr. Miles' Remedies.

MR. SIDLEY, of Torrington, Conn., Suffered from just such a complication of diseases as the extensive experience and investigations of Dr. Miles have proven, result from impairment of the nervous system. Mr. J. B. Sidley writes Oct. 15, 1895: "My wife was taken with neuralgia of the heart, nervous exhaustion and liver trouble. Although attended by two physicians she grew worse, until she was at death's door. I then began giving her Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and she improved so wonderfully from the first that I at once dismissed the physicians. She now eats and sleeps well and does her own housework. We have recommended your remedies to a great many in our city, and every one has been very much benefited by them."

HIS WIFE'S SISTER

The Old Question Causes Trouble and Incidental Shooting.

ST. CLAIR, Mich., Sept. 7.—Because the Rev. Julius Becker, of the German Lutheran church here, could see no wrong in a man marrying the sister of his deceased wife, and said as much from the pulpit, he and a majority of his congregation have been expelled from the synod to which they belonged. Shots were fired at two of Mr. Becker's chief supporters, to drive them from the stronghold of the church property, which they were guarding, and dissension and turmoil prevail in a once peace-loving congregation.

The synod followers who shot at the Beckers have been arraigned on the charge of assault with intent to commit murder. Because a majority of the congregation stood at the back of the minister in his teachings, the Beckers have continued to use the church for worship, while the synod faction has worshipped in an edifice belonging to a Baptist society. The latter faction has now brought action in the circuit court to permanently restrain Minister Becker and his followers from using the church property, on the ground that they are heretics, and that the church property belongs to the synod faction, as they alone are carrying out the doctrines of the church.

NEW FLYING MACHINE

Chicago Man Claims to Have Solved the Aerial Navigation Problem.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 7.—P. E. McDonnell, of this city, claims to have solved the problem of aerial navigation. At River Grove Park to-morrow, he will endeavor to prove his claim at the picnic to be given under the auspices of the local labor organizations.

The machine he will use consists of a three-foot cylinder composed of bamboo and held in position by spokes of white linen thread and ribs of piano wire. The entire frame, thirty feet in length, is covered with medium-weight canvas. On each side of the frame are the so-called wings, running the entire length, concave in shape on the lower side, and calculated to give the machine two hundred and fifteen feet of aeroplanes lifting power. After proving the truth of his claims, McDonnell will begin at once on a practical ship three hundred feet in length and thirty-five feet in diameter.

The inventor has already formed a company called the McDonnell Odometer Company, of which he is president, and his son, E. J. McDonnell, secretary.

They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and a lifetime guarantee. It never fails to satisfy. At Logan Drug Company's Drug Store. 4
